A bombardment group or bomb group was a group of bomber aircraft the United States Army Air Forces (USAAF) during World War II. It was the equivalent of an infantry regiment in the Army Ground Forces. A bombardment group was the key tactical control and administrative organization for bombers in all theaters of operation. U.S. bomb groups were numbered and classified into four types: Very Heavy (VH), Heavy (H), Medium (M), and Light (L). Groups which combined bombers of differing categories into a single administrative organization were designated "Composite" groups

The Good Conduct Medal is one of the oldest military awards of the United States Armed Forces. The Navy Good Conduct Medal was established in 1869, the Marine Corps version in 1896, the Coast Guard version in 1923, the Army version in 1941, and the Air Force version in 1963. The medal is awarded to any active-duty enlisted member of the United States military who completes three consecutive years of "honorable and faithful service". Such service implies that a standard enlistment was completed without any non-judicial punishment, disciplinary infractions, or court martial offenses

A Marksmanship Badge is a military badge of the United States Armed Forces presented to personnel upon successful completion of a weapons qualification course or high placement in an official marksmanship competition. The U.S. Military's Marksmanship Qualification Badges are awarded in three grades (highest to lowest): Expert, Sharpshooter, and Marksman

Organized in 1910 as the Isthmian Steamship Co, the shipping company was a wholly owned British subsidiary of U.S. Steel Products Export Co. The name, Isthmian, was chosen in honor of the Panama Canal / In 1914, the steamship company came under the ownership of the United States Steel Products Co / During WW II Isthmian acted as general agent for 132 U.S. War Shipping Administration vessels which made 872 voyages, carrying 50% of all supplies to the Red Sea and Persian Gulf. These ships were instrumental in setting the stage for the turning point of the European theater at El Alemain in 1942. By the end of the war 15 of the original 27 vessels were lost to enemy action while 2, loaned to the Russians and returned, were found badly used and unfit for further service

In time of war or national emergency, the U.S. Merchant Marine becomes vital to national security as a "fourth arm of defense." Merchant ships bear the brunt of delivering military troops, supplies and equipment overseas to our forces and allies operating as an auxiliary unit to the Navy

The Liberty ships — a vast new fleet for the war effort — was built in a national "Virtual Shipyard" that harnessed skills, resources, and facilities all across America. From 1941 to 1945, the United States increased its shipbuilding capacity by more than 1,200% and produced over 2,700 Liberty Ships, 800 Victory Vessels, 320 T-2 Tankers, and various other commercial and naval auxiliary vessels for a total of 5,200 ships constructed for the period
